

STRANGELY INJURED,
MAY COME HERE

Soldier With Hole Through Temples to Report In Washington.

Word has been received here that Thomas P. Dunn, a native of Montana, who, as a member of the First Montana Volunteers in the Spanish-American war, was shot through the head with a Mauser bullet, at Calocan, more than twelve years ago, will report to the War Department here as a ward of the Government.

Dunn has been sojourning in Portland, Ore., for the past few weeks. Friends of his who live in Washington say that when Dunn fell wounded on the battlefield of Calocan he was carried to the ward where the fatally injured were placed and no one paid any attention to him for two days, as there were too many other wounded whom the physicians and surgeons in charge believed had better chances for recovery.

Surgeon Astonished.
At the end of two days, during which the Montana boy lay practically without attention, the surgeon in charge remarked upon his vitality and decided to try to save his life.

A Mauser bullet had entered the left side of his head just above the temple and emerged from the right side just below the temple, a wound that had previously proved fatal as far as any of the medical men who have examined Dunn ever heard.

His remarkable recovery and the fact that he retains his reason are the most remarkable features of this case. While he is alive in good health, and able to walk around the streets and converse with his friends and acquaintances, Dunn is handicapped by the loss of all sense of smell or taste and has lost the sight of his right eye. Despite these afflictions he bears his lot with fortitude. He can not enjoy a meal, for no matter what choice viands he may order he can not relish them any more than he would hard tack and salt pork. The loss of the sense of taste he looks upon as his worst affliction.

Tommy Dunn, as he is known among his friends, is a ward of the Government not of his own choosing, for he has relatives and influential friends who take care of him and look after his comfort at all times.

Dreads Idleness.

His impaired eyesight has proved an obstacle toward his securing employment, and idleness is something he dreads because of his afflictions. His only amusement is to join several casual companions and tell stories of past experiences, or to take street car rides or journeys through the country in automobiles. He can not go to the theater, being handicapped by his blindness and fearful lest the glare of the lights shall impair the sight of his remaining eye.

As a ward of the Government Dunn must report at Washington or some other military headquarters at certain periods, and he is now preparing to visit the National Capital to undergo the periodical examination required by the Surgeon General's office. Dunn has banished all thoughts of matrimony, though some of his friends say that there is a girl waiting patiently for him somewhere in Montana—a boyhood sweetheart, they say.

SAYS SPIRIT COMES ON EARTHLY VISIT

Boston Divine Claims Communication With Late
Professor James.

BOSTON, Sept. 5.—Report here today has it that Prof. William James, psychologist at Harvard, who died a week ago last Friday, has been able to communicate from the beyond—something which he has been anticipating for years.

A statement to that effect is made by the Rev. Dr. Frederic A. Wiggin, of Brookline, pastor of Unity Church, and a spiritualist with whom the celebrated psychologist had frequently discussed the subject.

Prof. James died at Chocoma, N. H., on August 28, while Dr. Wiggin was attending a convention of spiritualists at Madison, Maine. The Rev. Dr. Wiggin did not learn the news until the following Sunday. Immediately he began getting into touch with the spirit of the professor, and declares today that during an hour's summoning of his control, "the spirit manifested itself."

In telling of the incident the Rev. Dr. Wiggin said today:

"Prof. James said he would put a psychic demonstration of real worth above anything he had done on his brilliant career on earth. I was convinced that his mind would not be able to translate from the subconscious mind the identity of the presence. The subconscious has apprehended the message of the presence from my control, but there was a break between the subconscious mind and the conscious. Yet I felt positive that the presence that remained there, and I have felt every night since, is that of Prof. James."

"I cannot make these communications known until the control is strong, but I believe they will go far toward establishing the message in the minds of some of the materialists."

BARCELONA IN GRIP
OF GENERAL STRIKE

MADRID, Sept. 5.—Barcelona is in the grip of a general strike today.

No newspapers were published, street cars were tied up, and business was at a standstill.

The government fears that the strike there will result seriously, and is preparing to re-enforce the garrison.

It is feared the Barcelona strike may be extended all over Spain, though the collapse of the Bilbao general strike and the Saragossa strike have given rise to the belief that the threatened nationwide strike will be short-lived even if disastrous.

At Bilbao only the miners remain on strike.

AN END TO WEDLOCK,
SAYS MRS. FRENCH

Woman Suing Heinze Says
Love, Not Marriage,
Will Rule.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—"When we can grow as the flowers and love as the sun, who gives his warmth and light to every animate and inanimate thing alike, then only are we able to discard the present necessary system of matrimony. When we have reached this point in evolution all human passion and emotion will have been subdued and ruled, instead as today the majority are ruled by them, which present condition is also necessary at this time for the development of the true self."

Mrs. Lillian Hobart French, theosophist, of Butte, Mont., and latterly of New York, who is suing Fritz Augustus Heinze for $25,000 which she alleges she lent him during the panic of 1907, is writing a book. The title is "Are These Things True?" and Mrs. French devotes a considerable part of her book to dilating on the point that marriage will some time soon be a memory as an institution. The foregoing paragraph is quoted from the book.

Mrs. French expresses her emotions on the subject also in the following paragraphs:

"The time will come when there will be neither marriage nor giving in marriage."

"It requires a peculiar and highly developed mentality to grasp the uselessness of marriage."

"The divorce courts prove that marriage is becoming a failure."

"Some day unadulterated love will rule supreme and become empress of the world."

"No human power can separate two souls that man hath joined together."

"No human power can keep together two souls that man hath joined together if they see fit to separate."

"Marriage is now necessary because of financial conditions of this materialistic age."

"We must love as the sun loves the earth, as the man loves the woman, who will sacrifice all for the other and glory in the sacrifice."

LYNCHING FEARED

FOR HOLD-UP MEN

HUDSON, N. Y., Sept. 5.—With several persons posing on the case, the murders of Denton Fowler, assistant treasurer of the Atlas Building Material Company, and his negro driver, George Ragdale, are expected to be in custody in less than twenty-four hours.

Chief Lane has what he believes is positive evidence of the identity of some of the party, and he said today that he expected to arrest all of the highway-men.

Threats against the murderers are being made, and if they are captured there is a possibility that an attempt at lynching will be made. Because of this Chief Lane has not arrested two men whom he now has under surveillance.

The bag of money, which had not been opened, and the masks, caps, shotgun, and rifle found by the police in the abandoned camp of the hold-up men are in the office of the chief of police here. A number of the brickyard employees have looked at the guns, masks and caps but failed to recognize them.

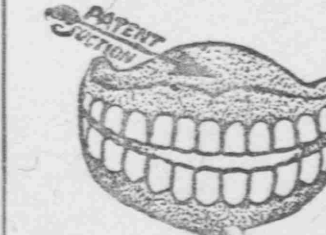

The police are now certain that two of the robbers, joined with the brickyard men who ran to the scene of the shooting on Saturday. This pair had the bag of money, which weighed seventy-five pounds, and are supposed to have hidden it in the thicket before slipping into the ranks of the quickly formed posse. The remaining three or four bandits are supposed to have run to the edge of the Hudson river, then to have turned back and are now thought to be in hiding somewhere between this city and the Massachusetts line.

WOMAN FACING DEATH
THROWS AWAY FORTUNE

Member of Famous Snell Family Sets Pace for Fashionable Colony of Phoenix, Arizona, and Gives Last of $20,000 to Little Girl.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—Knowing that her death was the matter of but a few hours, Mrs. Marguerite Falcone, who claimed on her deathbed to be a member of the famous Chicago millionaire Snell family, gave away the last dollar she possessed to a little girl whom she had previously befriended, and died in a pauper's cot in a hospital at Phoenix, Ariz.

The Chicago detective bureau was notified, and asked to locate her father, H. A. Snell, or Marie Valentine Snell, a sister, who live in Chicago. Up to today no trace of the relatives had been found.

The last year of Mrs. Falcone's life was more glittering even than was that of another member of the Snell family, the man time married Mrs. Grace Snell-Coffin-Walker-Layman. With death by quick consumption in an exhausting and of revelry expended more than $20,000 in the Western city in less than six months. Mrs. Falcone was taken into the heart of the society set and was much sought after. She was accompanied by her husband, who had many diamonds, kept several automobiles, and spent much money.

After a few weeks the couple began to live a pace seldom seen in Western cities. Her friends, who were reluctant to drop her, remonstrated with her, but she replied that she would be dead soon and that she intended to enjoy every minute of time and every dollar of money left to her.

Several weeks ago her husband is said to have deserted her. Mrs. Falcone then forsook the consumptive colony and took apartments in the heart of the city, where she treated Phoenix to a dazzling and spectacular whirl of metropolitan night-life that hastened her death.

Just before she was taken to the hospital where she died she gave a little girl to whom she had become attached earlier in her Phoenix career all the money and jewelry she possessed.

Acquaintances of the young woman have raised funds to keep her from being buried in a pauper's grave. Almost all of the members of the Snell family have met sensational deaths.

The late Mrs. Snell, a "millionaire" was murdered by a burglar in his Washington boulevard home. Amos J. Snell, jr., died recently in a South Clark street rooming house. Another member of the family have led romantic careers.

The sanctuary choir will be under the direction of R. Mills Silby, formerly of Westminster Cathedral, London. The reorganized mixed choir of thirty voices will be directed by Miss Jennie Cleman. The retreat of the Solidarity of the Blessed Virgin, and the League of the Good Shepherd will begin the last Sunday of October and end on the second Sunday of November.

The Pan-American thanksgiving celebration, begun under such favorable circumstances, will be repeated this autumn. The program of devotions for Christmas will be the same as that of last year. A newly ordained priest, whose name is not yet given out will celebrate the first mass on Christmas Day.

The League of the Sacred Heart will begin its regular meetings on the first Friday of October.

Freckles

Can Be Easily Removed—Almost In One Night—Like Magic.

Miss E. M. Berger, of Beloit, Wis., writes so interesting and convincing a letter about how she got rid of her freckles that we gladly quote a part of it:

"I have used one jar of Kintho and am simply delighted with the results. I was always of the opinion that freckles could not be removed, but thought I would give Kintho a trial, and it has truly convinced me that freckles CAN be removed. It has given me all you claim for it."

If your case is like Miss Berger's get a two-ounce package of Kintho (extra strength) at toilet goods counter of People's Drug Store or Palais Royal and see if it won't do the same for you. Money back if it fails.
